3. The soul of the dreamer runs to the night
And reserves her ticket on the next astral flight
And donning her cloak of sliver that gleams
She quietly lifts off into her dreams
Quietly lifts off -- into her dreams

4. The soul of the dreamer flies through the night
Over castles and forests on her astral flight
She'll never return to the rage of the day
She turns her ship starward and swiftly aways
Turn your ship starward -- slip swiftly away
Come with her away
Slip swiftly away...
